Laboratory Support

Performance Diesel, LLC offers laboratory assessment services at no cost to our customers.

In the fall, we recommend that our customers test their primary fuel sources. In many cases, the Terminal Fuel is fungible which means that the diesel fuel meets the ASTM D-975 specification but the fuel is commingled.

Each fuel will have its own specific winter performance but, on average, the test results still will be representative.

We urge fuel sample testing every month during the traditionally cold months from November through February as well.

Winter fuel sample testing comprises the following:

- Cloud Point
- CFPP
- Pour Point

We also offer the following additional lab testing options:

- Karl Fisher (water)
- HFRR (lubricity)
- Stability
- Flash Point

Complimentary laboratory test kits will be provided.
